

INTRODUCTION

ADNUSOP (Ateneo de Naga University Student Organizations Portal) is a web-based application wherein students of Ateneo de Naga University can look up to search for student organizations. Though these student organizations have their respective bulletin boards wherein they can post their announcements and activities, students of Ateneo de Naga University just occasionally see these posts and sometimes not, they just pass through it. Students nowadays are very "techy" in such a way that they would like to see everything online, in the internet. With these, Adnu-Org would like to deliver organization's posts to students thru online. These would also help the organizations to recruit aspirants who want to join their group.

Scope and Limitation

The proponents will focus in the Ateneo de Naga University students and student-organizations. Though the web application is available for all, the registration in organizations is only for Ateneans.

Significance of the study

ADNUSOP web-based application will be a big help to the organizations in which they can deliver their post thru the internet. ADNUSOP can also be a way to connect the organization and its members thru the updates posted by their president of their respective organizations. It can also be a way wherein students/non-members can notify the organization if they would like to join their group.

Swimlane Diagram

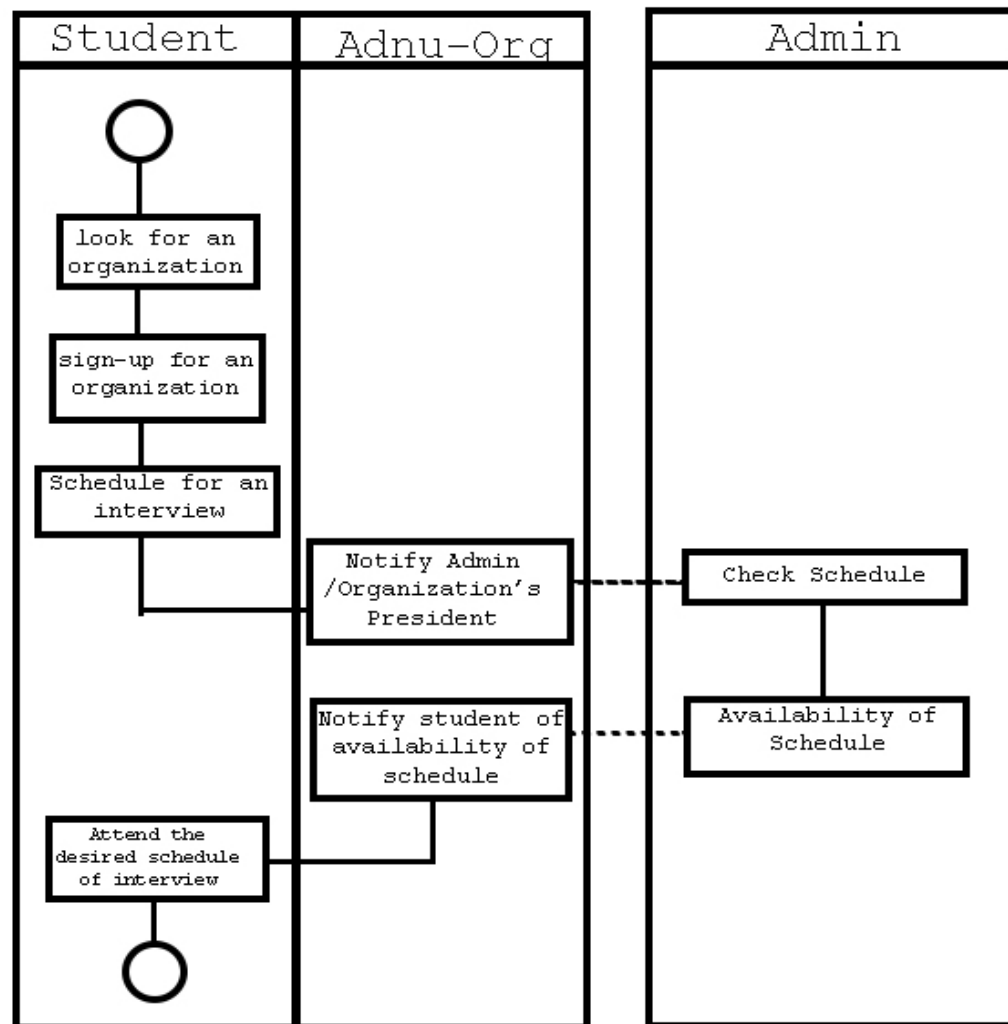

Figure 1

Entity Relationship Diagram

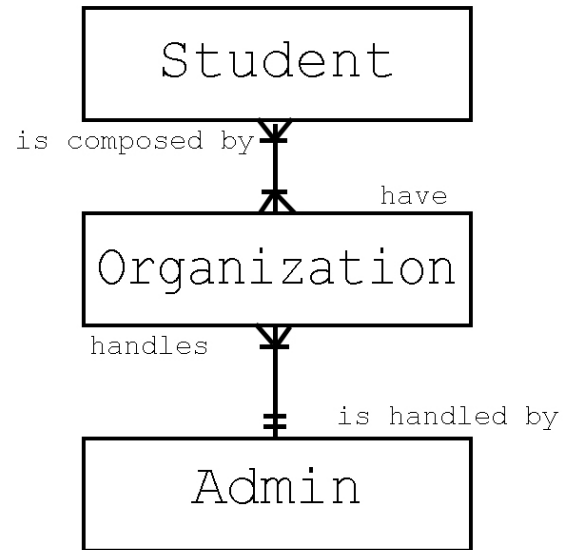

Figure 2

The student will look for an organization and will choose his/her desired organization. The student will now sign-up for an interview for the recruitment stage of an organization. The admin of the organization will give a schedule wherein the student will be required to attend if he/she really wants to join their group.

Ateneo de Naga University

Ateneo de Naga University
Student Organization Portal
(Ruby on Rails - Web based application)

Submitted by:

Alanis, Jose Frungk Rombit B.

Alajor, Arvin Ian B.

Peralta, Karl Mikael M.

Submitted to:

John Sixto Santos